President Updates

Parker: Coordinators send me some of your times that you are available. Its been 4 years since the coordinator job descriptions have been updated so please look through and see what changes have to be made. NSSE is a survey going out to freshmen and seniors and is really important for our accreditation. Wanted to remind everyone that we are still in a pandemic and following university guidelines still and as ASWU members we are held to a higher level of accountability.

FVP Updates

Capital: $14,567

Unallocated: $ 17,750

Faizzan: No finance committee updates this meeting.

EVP Updates

Hannah: There are some reps that haven't met with me this semester so please sign up for office hours. Also be sure to fill out the office hour forms that are due on Sundays. Sent out the email today with a voter guide for the constitutional amendment and if you have questions, they can contact us, and the actual vote will be next Wednesday. The student highlight this week is the ethics bowl team they placed second at nationals and beat teams such as Harvard.

Upcoming Events:

Money Moves After Graduation

Katie Luds: On March 4th from 5-7 pm in MPR it is a walk by event for seniors partnering with balance your bucs covering financial topics with $100 raffle. I have meal cards for those that attend and coffee cards.

Off Campus Hot Chocolate:

David: on Wednesday the 17th we are having an outdoor hot chocolate from 9-11:30pm.

Casino Night:

Emily: Casino night is two and a half weeks away. I have the big posters made and only need 5 more people to sign up if any of you can. It is going well and let me know if you have prize ideas.

Constituency Reports

Stewart

Adaeze: Vibes have been cool, have been trying to get people to go outside and so I hung out with some residents outside. Our small group thing is going really well too and have had good turnouts for that.

McMillan

Jaedon: if you remember last semester there was a beeping and it started again. More board games, video games and classic mac games, also been frolfing a lot more.

Off Campus

David: outside of hot chocolate event we have other events for the rest of the semester, such as a BBQ or something.

Ballard

Meghan: Ballard's doing well, we lost heat for a bit today and our showers weren't working for a long time.

Oliver

Olivia: Oliver's doing good, and finally got sweatshirts done. We've been having problems with our printer and also our internet as well.

Boppell

Jed: Not too much to report, the other leadership team is trying to have more of a presence in the building to be seen more.

Arend

Emma: Lately it's been kind of quiet since people have tests and there was a carbon monoxide leak in the lounge the other night but doing good.

Duvall

Xavier: Duvall is doing good; I did see people outside enjoying the nice weather. We also had a problem with the printer, but we got it figured it out. There's been little response for the surveys.

Warren

Isaac: It's been good seeing people around and also had printer issues. Right now, just working on brainstorming events.

Baldwin Jenkins

Mac: Poppin off, we also had printer problems and found that it didn't like the PDF versions of documents. The light in the lobby was flickering and people wanted to jab it and they fixed the lights above the pool table.

Global Engagement Rep

Michael L: The international students have been doing well and a couple people have asked for help to file tax returns but not much else.

Whifflex rep

Victoria: After the president gave his announcement of returning to campus, I got a lot of mixed responses some felt they were being forced back and some were happy about that.

Incoming Student Rep

Christian: Last Thursday we had our first rotating office hours, unfortunately we didn't see many people but will try again tomorrow. We are trying to plan a paint night for the students.

Campus Vibes

Mac: Its really sunny outside and people are happier now.

Olivia: we had a TLAC meeting recently and the main topic was the instruction methods and how they are going to start finalizing them.

Jed: Last meeting we talked about the surveillance testing and the problem is I was selected for a test, but times were so limited I could not make it to get the test done.

Parker: As you all know hiring season is upon us and I want to encourage you guys to reach out to students who you think would be good for those positions.

Esther: I wanted to let you know about a project for women's history month. I am trying to highlight stories of women here around Spokane to celebrate strong members in our community.

Michael B: encourage everyone to make sure they are getting enough sleep and staying active throughout the semester.

Rachel: I was at the COVAC meeting and there is plans to have ROTC here on campus.

Adaeze: Going off what Mac said it has been nice and I have been seeing people all over campus and it has been super cool and want to try getting more people outside.

Shout outs

Meghan: the whole ethics bowl team did so well this weekend especially eric Anderson.

Christian: Shout out to Adaeze, I saw her newsletter and they were awesome.

Jed: Also, the coaches for the ethics team who led them there

Mac: shout out to Hannah's hat

Parker: also wanted to talk about doing another virtual jack box game night
